

SPARKLING WINE

- Cava, 1887 Brut, Cavas Hill, Penedès, Spain 7/21
Complex aromas with notes of bottle aging and vegetable nuances. Dry, well-balanced, broad, and elegant.
- Rose Blend, RivaRose Brut, Royal Provence, NV, Provence, France 9/27
The nose offers up a fresh, soft scent of strawberry, raspberry and a little cherry. Flavors of red berries and a little spice. Delicious, effervescent and refreshing.

WHITE/ROSE WINE

- Albillo, Lovamor, Alfredo Maestro, Castilla y León, Ribera del Duero, Spain 9/27
Made with the native white grape Albillo Real; grapes are grown using organic farming practices. Fruit is sourced from 100-120-year-old Albillo vines located at 2,526-3,280 feet elevations. Fermented with wild yeasts in steel vats with six days of skin contact; raised in vat; unfinned and unfiltered; no SO2 added.
- Chardonnay, L'Etoile, Domaine Rolet Pere et Fils, 2014, L'Etoile, Jura, France 12/36
The vineyards are hand-harvested and farmed sustainably with no use of chemical herbicides. The grapes are from hillsides near Lons le Saunier; the terroir is characterized by abundant star-shaped fossils, giving the name of L'Etoile ("the star") to this very small appellation.
- Chardonnay, Folie A Deux, 2013, Russian River Valley, Sonoma County, California 7/21
The cooling fog from the Pacific Ocean provides a long, even growing season. Sustainably farmed grapes thrive in the region's alluvial soils. Fermented in a combination of French, American and Hungarian oak barrels, which adds complexity to the rich fruit flavors.
- Muller-Thurgau, Montinore Estate, 2013, Willamette Valley, Oregon 10/30
Lesser-known relative of Riesling; made with certified organic Oregon grapes by winemaker Stephen Webber. Aromas of peach, quince, pear, apricot, gardenias and honeysuckle. Rich palate of lime, honeydew melon, apricot and apple.
- Pinot Grigio, Il Conti Winery, Italy 8/24
Flavors of citrus and melons with notes of fresh herbs.
- Sauvignon Blanc, Sea Pearl, 2016, Marlborough, New Zealand 8/24
Crafted from fruit grown in the southern Wairau River valleys of Marlborough, with close proximity to the sea. Sea Pearl takes a purist approach to winemaking, making certain the vineyards are in perfect condition and harvesting at optimum ripeness, letting the fruit express itself with minimal intervention in the winery.
- Rose, Corbieres, Senhal d'Arice, Chateau Ribaute, 2016, Corbieres, Languedoc-Roussillon, France 12/36
A blend of Carignan, Grenache, Syrah and Mourvèdre. Château de Ribaute's vineyards sit on stony, clay-limestone terraces in the heart of the Corbières region. The name of the cuvee (Senhal d'Arice) is a tribute to the geographical position of Château Ribaute, which is close to Alaric Mountain (the highest peak is Senhal d'Arice).
- Rose, Grenache, Le Val Winery, 2015, Languedoc-Roussillon, France 8/24
Le Val is from Les Vignerons du Val d'Orbieu, an association established in 1967 by a small group of dynamic winemakers whose 37,050 acres of planted vineyards border the picturesque Orbieu River in the heart of the Corbières. The exquisite vineyards stretch from the Pyrénées Mountains to the Rhone River along the Mediterranean coast.

RED WINE

- Red Blend, Bodegas Atalaya, Laya, 2015, Almansa, Spain 9/27
70% Garnacha Tintorera/30% Monastrell. The grapes come from vineyards in the Almansa area between 2,296 and 3,280 feet above sea level, planted in sandy soils with a high concentration of limestone at their base. The grapes are fermented separately in stainless steel tank and then remain in French oak barrels for four months.
- Red Blend, 19 Crimes, 2016, South Eastern Australia 9/27
Shiraz, Grenache, Mourvede blend from winemaker Tony Robinson. The name is derived from the 19 crimes that landed criminals "punishment by transportation" sentences; English prisoners were shipped to the British penal colony in Australia for said crimes in lieu of execution.
- Pinot Noir, Vinum Cellars, 2014, Monterey, California 10/30
The grapes for this wine are sourced in Monterey near King City and on the West side foothills of the lower Santa Lucia Highlands Range. The blend is comprised of Clones 115, 2A and Pommard 4. Aged for at least nine months in French oak.
- Malbec, 1300, Andeluna Cellars, 2015, Mendoza, Argentina 9/27
The hand-selected grapes used in this wine were extracted from vineyards located in the Uco Valley, Mendoza, at 1,300 meters (4,300 feet) above sea level. Pre-fermentative maceration at low temperatures with fermentation by natural and selected yeasts in controlled stainless steel tanks. In contact with French oak for three months and cellared in bottles for a minimum of three months.
- Beaujolais-Villages, Maison Labouré-Roi, 2013, Burgundy, France 8/24
The winery, which is based in Nuits Saint Georges in the heart of Burgundy's Côte d'Or, was founded in 1832. The Gamay Noir grapes are sourced from three granite areas which are similar to the 10 crus from the Beaujolais region. The granite soil is deep and dries quickly producing a naturally concentrated wine. Grapes are harvested by hand; the stems are not removed to conserve the grapes whole. The grapes go through carbonic maceration during the alcohol fermentation stage.
