

SPARKLING

- Cava, 1887 Brut, Cavas Hill, Penedès, Spain 7/21
Complex aromas with notes of bottle aging and vegetable nuances. Dry, well-balanced, broad, and elegant.
- Brut Rose, Langlois-Chateau Crémant de Loire Brut Rosé, Loire Valley, France 14/42
This 100% Cabernet Franc sparkling rosé is handcrafted with the same process as the best Champagne, with only the first pressed ("cuvée") juice used. 18 months aging on the lees. The color is achieved from 12-15 hours skin contact.

WHITE/ROSE

- Chardonnay, Folie A Deux, 2013, Russian River Valley, Sonoma County, California 7/21
The cooling fog from the Pacific Ocean provides a long, even growing season. Sustainably farmed grapes thrive in the region's alluvial soils. Fermented in a combination of French, American and Hungarian oak barrels, adding complexity to the rich fruit flavors.
- Chardonnay, Macon-Villages Blanc, Maison Labouré-Roi, 2015, Nuits-Saint-Georges, Burgundy, France 12/36
The winery has a team of oenologists, very advanced technical equipment, and its cellars can house more than 1,300 barrels and allow for the wines to age in optimal conditions. This wine is free from any oak aging and shows tropical flavors; ripe and rich with light, balanced acidity.
- Pinot Grigio, Tavernello, Caviro Cooperative, Delle Venezie IGT, Italy 8/24
Environmentally-aware cooperative utilizes traditional winemaking methods and a modern environment commitment with integrated cycle and energy self-sufficiency and zero emissions.
- Pinot Gris, Lady Hill Winery, 2013, Willamette Valley, Oregon 11/33
Willamette Valley was the first place outside of France where Pinot Gris vines were planted. The variety thrives in the cool, marine air-influenced climate and hillsides of Oregon's most famous appellation. Grapes are sourced from select vineyards in the region; reminiscent of classic Alsatian versions, but with the overlay of lively Willamette Valley acidity.
- Sauvignon Blanc, Sea Pearl, 2016, Marlborough, New Zealand 8/24
Crafted from fruit grown in the southern Wairau River valleys of Marlborough, with close proximity to the sea. Sea Pearl takes a purist approach to winemaking, making certain the vineyards are in perfect condition and harvesting at optimum ripeness, letting the fruit express itself with minimal intervention in the winery. WS Rating: 88
- White Blend, Lunatic, Luna Vineyards, 2014, Napa, California 7/21
Gewürztraminer 36%, Muscat Canelli 28%, Rousanne 25%, Viognier 11%; grapes sourced from multiple growing regions. The individual varietals were classically fermented in steel. After fermentation, they were cleanly racked off their lees and sealed airtight to age until ready to bottle. The wines were aged separately and then blended prior to bottling.
- Chenin Blanc, Ken Forrester Vineyards, Old Vine Reserve, 2015, Stellenbosch, South Africa 10/30
Made with 100% hand-harvested Chenin Blanc grapes from the Stellenbosch Appellation. Clovelly (deep-yellow sand); mature unirrigated vineyards with controlled yields. Barrel and tank fermented and left on lees (9 months French oak, 20% new) and matured on secondary lees for a rounded complexity.
- Rose, VillaViva, 2016, Cotes de Thau, Languedoc-Roussillon, France 10/30
100% Carignan. Vineyards are planted on fossilized oyster beds, limestone, gravel and quartz soil and benefit from a sunny and dry climate perfect for rose production. An elaborate subsoil network of fresh water and salt water conduits under the vineyards nourish the vines and contribute to the unique flavor of the wine.

RED WINE

- Bordeaux, Blaye, Cotes de Bordeaux, Chateau Haut-Colombier, 2014, Bordeaux, France 14/42
Chateau Haut-Colombier was purchased by the Chety family in 1991; the family has been making wine for five generations. The winery is located on the highest hill of the Blayais. The family began converting the vineyard to organic farming in 2011; 2014 is the first organic vintage. WS Rating: 87
- Red Blend, Ad Lucem, Elaina Red Columbia Valley, 2013, St. Paul, Oregon 10/30
Rhône blend of 62% Syrah, 13% Grenache, 12% Mourvedre, 3% Counoise and 10% Durif sourced from Columbia Valley, Washington. The mother winery of Ad Lucem is Lady Hill Winery, which is Jerry Owen's (Owen-Roe Winery) newest project. The winemaker is Erik Brasher, the original winemaker for Owen-Roe. Ad Lucem is Latin for "into the light." WS Rating: 89
- Malbec, Finca el Origen, Reserva Estate, Bodegas y Vinedos la Esperanza, 2016, Valle de Uco, Mendoza, Argentina 9/27
Located in Vista Flores, at 3,900 feet above sea level, the estate has soil of an alluvial origin, deep and permeable, filled with pebble stone and sand. Due to the high altitude, the vines receive a lot of sun exposure which, along with a continental desert climate with wide thermal amplitudes, contributes to the development of grapes with thick skins, rendering concentrated wines with very deep colors and explosive floral aromas. WS Rating: 87
- Pinot Noir, Yealands Family Wines, 2014, Marlborough, New Zealand 13/39
Yealands practices sustainability through initiatives such as developing wetlands, composting and using natural pest control measures, and reducing emissions with renewable energy, fuel reduction, SMART technology and environmentally friendly packaging. This estate-grown wine comes from Seaview Vineyard, which is located on rolling hill country, perfect for growing highly concentrated and aromatic Pinot Noir. Non-GMO. Vegan. WS Rating: 91
- Grenache, Alakai, Joel Gott Wines, 2012, Monterey/Knights Valley, California 7/21
95% Grenache blended with 5% Syrah. The majority of the Grenache grapes are from the Monterey appellation where windy, cool weather, similar to that in France's Rhône Valley, stresses the vines, creating smaller, more concentrated fruit clusters. Barrel: 65% new French oak.
